Chronic Bronchitis.

The word Chronic, used to designate this disease, is intended to signify one of long continuance, or in contradistinction to acute Bronchitis, in which the disease runs a rapid course and is attended with fever usually of a high grade. It is a diseased or inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is characterized by a cough, hoarseness, and an increased secretion of mucous. It is attended with more or less pain, or rather a pricking, tingling sensation, which oftentimes attracts little or no notice. The Bronchia commences at the root of the neck, and then branches into two parts, one part descending into each lung, where it is again divided into thousands of smaller tubes, which ramify every portion of the lungs, and carry the air to them. It is the lining of this Bronchia which is affected in Bronchitis, whether the disease be chronic or acute. The Bronchial glands in this disease are forced to an increased action, and an extra effort of nature is induced in order to overcome the disease; hence there is an increased discharge of mucous, sometimes tinged with blood, which oftentimes awakens considerable alarm in the person affected. Chronic Bronchitis may terminate either in an acute attack of bronchial inflamation, or in bronchial consumption, or even in Pulmonary Consumption by communicating the disease to the substance of the lungs. The disease in its beginning, is simple and easy of cure, but when allowed to get headway is often unmanageable, hard to control, and very destructive of human life. I believe that thousands of cases of bronchitis, as well as pulmonary consumption, have been hindered by the use of my PECTORAL SYRUP, a medicine which I have prepared for the past twenty years. I have sold tens of thousands of bottles, and I know of very few cases where it has failed to do good. It will cure recent coughs and colds in a few doses. I do not know of any other medicine, now before the public for the purpose, which can at all compare with my "Pectoral Syrup." It is certified to by hundreds of our own citizens who have used it, and who cannot possibly be deceived with regard to its efficiency, and besides would have no interest in trying to deceive the public.

I have cured cases of Lung disease very often after they had been "given up"—very many cases, right here in Pittsburgh. In a great many cases of Pulmonary Consumption, I use other remedies besides my Pectoral Syrup. I am well aware that medicines to build up the constitution, such as tonics, and alteratives, are often, yes, almost invariably, necessary.

For this purpose I prepare a medicine called LUNG CURE, or Pulmonary Restorative, which is also a tonic, alterative and nutrient, and enables the system, by adding to the blood the elementary principles that it seems to require, and, at the same time, carrying out of it those morbid elements which tends to destructive lesions and unhealthy accumulations in any particular part, or organ—in this way it restores a healthy organism, and a renewal of the various functionaries of life and health—for health consists in a proper renewal of the wear and exhaustion of the animal organism; and disease, in the failure of it. All my remedies are sold at the great Medicine Store, No. 140 Wood street. Consultation Rooms for Lung examinations 120 Penn street. Office hours from nine o'clock A. M., until four o'clock P. M.

Bill Shakspeare and Cassius.

"Let me have men about me that are fat, sleek headed men—Yon Cassius has a lean and hungry look; such men are dangerous." So said Shakspeare. Now Cassius, like many another simple man, was slim because he knew not how to appreciate good living. If he were living to-day he would not be reproached because lean, for at Holtzheimer's Continental Saloon, he would repair like all sensible men do, and partake of the splendidly gotten up meals and be as sleek and fat as his tormentor. Cassius would appreciate Holtzheimer's bill of fare and would be one of the numerous patrons who throng this popular restaurant day and night. As Cassius is dead, we can only advise lean men like him to patronize no other restaurant than the Continental, next door to the Post office Fifth street, unless they want to keep lean and spare-boned.

Report on the New Orleans Custom House.

PROBABLE REJECTION OF GEN. DIX AS MINISTER TO FRANCE.

Adjournment of the Supreme Court To-Day.

WASHINGTON, February 27, 1867.

NEW ORLEANS CUSTOM HOUSE INVESTIGATION.

The Committee on the New Orleans Riots, who were instructed to inquire into the alleged frauds in the New Orleans Custom House, have made a report on the latter branch, in which they say they decided not to attempt an investigation of matters concerning which no information had been given them, or into occurrences said to have transpired at so remote a date as 1862; but confined their action to that part of the resolution which regarded the appointments in the Custom House. The conclusions at which the Committee arrived are,

First, That the Collector, Mr. Kellogg, has not made appointments of persons who, he had reason to believe had been in any way connected with the rebel service.

Second, That it does not appear that Mr. Kellogg deemed it his duty to inquire, and that he had not, in fact, inquired, as to the antecedents of applicants for office with reference to their connection with the Federal or Rebel service.

Third, That removals had been made, some of which were quite recent, of persons employed in the Custom House, when it appeared that they had been actually engaged in rendering aid during the rebellion to the rebel cause.

Fourth, That great and continued care should be taken in the appointment of officers whose duty it is to protect the Government against frauds upon the internal revenue laws; that none but genuine and known friends of the Government should be appointed to office.

Fifth, Such care has been uniformly taken in all the departments of the Custom House. [Representative Boyer, one of the Committee, does not unite with the majority in this conclusion.]

Sixth, That the effect of the examination and inquiry made by the Committee will be to ensure the exercise of greater care in the retaining of the parties now in office, and in the appointments hereafter to be made.

Seventh, That it is not expedient at this time to recommend to the House of Representatives any action concerning appointments to office in the Custom House at New Orleans.

The Collector in a letter to the Committee, says of the 252 employed in the Custom House, 77 have served in the United States army, 17 in the navy, and 28 have been connected with the army as clerks, or nearly fifty per cent. of the entire number. All the regular appointees have taken the oath required by law. Some persons who had served in the rebel army, obtained appointments under cover of the test oath, but whenever cases of this kind were brought to the attention of the Collector he dismissed them.

The act to amend an act for the removal of causes in certain cases from State to United States Courts was passed.

LANDS FOR RAILROADS.

Mr. HOWARD reported a bill granting a portion of the military reservation in Kansas for railroad purposes. Pending its consideration the morning hour expired.

COMPOUND INTEREST NOTE BILL.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN the compound interest note bill was taken up. The question was on the Senate substitute for the House bill. The bill, as passed by the House, authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to redeem the compound interest notes with a new issue of legal tender notes, not to exceed $100,000,000. For this the Senate Finance Committee proposes, as a substitute, the bill passed by the Senate a couple of months ago, authorizing the redemption of maturing compound interest notes, with certificates of loan, at three per cent. interest. The substitution of the Senate bill was agreed to.

Mr. SHERMAN offered the following amendment from the Finance Committee: "That no National Bank shall pay, or receive, interest on any portion of its reserve, when deposited in any other National Bank, and compound interest notes shall not be held, or held as part of their reserve fund, after the first of July next."

This was agreed to, and the bill as amended passed.

DECLARING VALID CERTAIN PROCLAMATIONS.

Mr. TRUMBULL reported from the Committee on Judiciary, without amendment, the House bill declaring valid and conclusive certain proclamations of the President, and acts done in pursuance thereof, or of his order, in the suppression of the late rebellion against the United States.

VACANCY IN THE OFFICE OF PRESIDENT.

Mr. TRUMBULL reported adversely on the House bill amendatory of the "act declaring the officer who shall act as President of the United States in case of vacancy in the office, both of President and Vice President," and moved its postponement for the reason that there was not sufficient time for its consideration during the present session. The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHERMAN called up the omnibus appropriation bill, which was read.

The Finance Committee recommended several amendments of no public importance, and one abolishing the office of Commissioner of Public Buildings, and authorizing the election by the Senate of a Superintendent thereof.

Mr. WADE opposed the latter amendment.

Mr. SHERMAN thought it out of place in an appropriation bill.

Mr. WADE said the Commissioner of Public Buildings had charge of the Capitol building. If any difficulty occurred between the President and Congress while an officer had charge of the Capitol under the appointment of the President, it might lead to a great deal of inconvenience. He thought it very important that the man having charge of the Capitol should be a man friendly to Congress.

Mr. HOWARD said he should vote against striking out the section, because he thought the appointment ought to be vested in the Senate.

Messrs. SHERMAN and WILLIAMS spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. EDMUNDS doubted the right of Congress to elect a Commissioner of Public Buildings. He proposed, in place of the House proposition, a section, that the office of Commissioner of Public Buildings is hereby abolished, and, until otherwise provided, the duties of that office shall be performed by the Quartermaster General of the Army.

Mr. WADE contended for the House proposition. There have been threats of violence against Congress by the organs and spokesmen of the President, and the President had never done anything to contradict these statements. This being the case, Congress ought to surround itself with its friends.

Mr. HOWARD spoke in similar view.

After further debate, the Senate went into Executive session, and subsequently took a recess.

STATUTE TO GEN. SCOTT.

Evening Session.—Mr. WILSON called up the joint resolution passed by the House at its last session, directing the Secretary of War to contract for the erection of an equestrian statue in bronze to the memory of Gen. Winfield Scott. It is to be made by Henry K. Brown, of Newburg, New York, of cannon captured in the Mexican war, and at a cost not exceeding $20,000. The resolution was amended so as to read "to be placed in Franklin Square, Washington City, or some other place to be designated by the Secretary of War." Passed.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

The consideration of the miscelaneous appropriation bill resumed.

The question was on the amendment of Mr. Edmonds to substitute for the section abolishing the office of Commissioner of Public Buildings, &c.; a section abolishing the office and imposing its duties upon a competent Civil Engineer to be appointed by the President, at an annual compensation of $4,000, adopted.

The Finance Committee recommend the adoption of a resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay such Assistant Assessors as were actually employed in the collection of internal revenue in the rebel States, prior to August 1st, 1866, compensation at a rate prescribed by law.

Mr. TRUMBULL opposed the amendment.

Mr. SHERMAN explained the circumstances under which these men were employed.

Mr. SUMNER said the Secretary of the Treasury was guilty of an illegal act; nay more, of a crime. He violated the law in appointing men who could not take the oath. He denounced the Secretary as having been guilty of a falsehood, in saying there were no loyal men in those localities who could hold the office.

Mr. SHERMAN said this language was unparliamentary; it was ungentlemanly; it was false; it ought not have been uttered in the Senate.

The debate was continued at great length, Mr. FESSENDEN defending the Secretary of the Treasury against the attacks of Mr. Sumner.

Mr. WILSON offered a substitute for the pending resolution declaring that in appointing Assessors, persons who could not take the oath, the Secretary of the Treasury acted in violation of the law; but the persons appointed, being guilty of no offense, are entitled in equity to compensation, and authorizing the Secretary to pay them.

After further debate, the Senate, at 11:45, adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THE "HOLE IN THE WALL."

On motion of Mr. STEVENS, proposals are to be received for renting the restaurant attached to the House, the proceeds to go to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Home.

NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, and proceeded to consider the naval appropriation bill, the total of which is $162,299,309.

On motion of Mr. KUYKENDALL ten thousand dollars was appropriated for a naval station at Mound City, Illinois.

After some further amendment, the bill passed.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTE.

The SPEAKER presented the annual report of the Smithsonian Institute. Ordered to be printed.

THE TARIFF BILL.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the tariff bill. The Amendments from the Ways and Means Committee were disposed of as follows:

The amendments numbered from twenty to thirty, in reference to wool packing, omitting the words "at the last point or place" &c., so as to leave the valuation depend upon the price in the principal markets in the country.

Mr. MORRILL moved to amend amendment, number twenty as reported, by striking out the words "and such commissions," so that the clause should read "and upon wool of the first class, imported unwashed, the value whereof in the principal markets of the country, whence exported to the United States, excluding charges, shall be so much per pound."

Mr. ALLISON opposed the amendment as having the effect of reducing the duty on wool. The amendment was rejected.

The amendments reported by the Committee on Ways and Means, numbering from twenty to thirty, were adopted.

The amendment inserting woolen flocks, in the paragraph taxing woolen rags, &c. twelve cents per pound, came up.

The amendment was agreed to.

The amendment to strike out of the Senate's substitute the words "and on woolen flocks or shearings of pulled cloth, the duty shall be three cents per pound," was agreed to.

The amendments relative to woolen cloths, bunting, dress goods, carpets, oil cloths and dress silks, were adopted.

On the amendment increasing the tax on manufactured flax from $15 to $20 per ton, Mr. SCHENCK moved to increase it to $35, and subsequently to $100; both rejected.

After debate, in which the interests of the East and West were vindicated by members from each section, Mr. SCHENCK moved to increase the tax to $40. Adopted by a vote of 50 to 45.

Mr. SCHENCK moved to increase the duty on hackled flax to $50 per ton, and Mr. FARNSWORTH moved to increase it to $80.

A similar debate ensued, which was finally terminated by the rising of the Committee.

The Committee has disposed of but forty-five of the amendments of the Ways and Means Committee.

Recess.

Evening Session.—Mr. SCHENCK reported back from the Military Committee the Senate bill to provide for a temporary increase in the pay of officers of the army, with some amendments. The amendments were agreed to and the bill passed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff Bill, having ordered the debate to be closed on the pending paragraph. All amendments to the paragraph were rejected, and the duty on flax adopted as reported by the Committee.

During the debate on the amendment to increase the duty on horse shoes Mr. STEVENS suggested that if the friends of the tariff would hold their tongues and not talk so much, there would be some chance of having the bill passed, but not otherwise. (Laughter.)

After having reached the 82d amendment, leaving still 133 to be considered, the Committee rose.

Mr. MORRILL gave notice that he would, to-morrow, try to press the tariff bill to its final vote.

THE KINGDOM OF CANADA.

Mr. RAYMOND asked leave to offer a resolution declaring that the establishment in the immediate proximity of the United States of a powerful monarchy, under the support of a foreign nation, cannot be regarded otherwise than as being hostile to peace and menacing to the safety of the republic, and requesting the President to inform the House whether any remonstrance has been made by this Government against the proposed consolidation of all the British North American provinces into a single confederacy, under the imperial rule of an English prince; and whether the consent of this Government has been given in any way to the consummation of that project.

Mr. CONKLING objected.

Mr. RAYMOND moved to suspend the rules. On the vote being taken there was no quorum in the house. The resolution remains as unfinished business, to come up to-morrow morning.

Adjourned.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Fenian News from Ireland—Its Effect on the New York Circles—Return of Yachtman Bennett—Sale of Missouri Railroads.

NEW YORK, February 28.—Report says a Fenian envoy has arrived from Ireland, who says the English statements that the rebellion is ended are false; that the uprising was general in the counties of Kerry, Dublin and Tipperary. The organization is stronger than ever. The soldiers are under drill of four hundred men who served in this country during the rebellion. As to defection among the British troops, it is understood they will march wherever ordered; but when they come to fire they will know what to do. An American officer has enlisted eight hundred British troops since Christmas.

At a meeting of Fenians here to-day, no want of confidence in the movement or order was evinced. Plans were submitted for conducting the war for the freedom of Ireland, and it is said to be contemplated, if the vigilance of the British government in Ireland should render movements there extra hazardous, to transfer operations to England and Scotland.

THE FINANCIAL LOOK.

Financial affairs are unsettled under the uncertainty as to the disposal of the reconstruction bill, and under the settlement of the currency question, as it is felt the continuance of contraction must materially affect the course of the money market, and business interests generally. There is a disposition to hold operations looking to the future in abeyance, until Congress comes to some understanding upon that question.

SALE OF MISSOURI RAILROADS.

The Committee appointed by the Missouri Legislature to investigate all matters connected with the sales of certain railroads of that state, which has been in session here for several days, examining witnesses and papers relative to the sale of the Southwest Pacific Road, closed their labors to-day. It is understood that their report will entirely exonerate Governor Fletcher from all suspicion of fraud in regard to the sale of that road.

ARRIVED FROM EUROPE.

The steamer Pereire, from Havre via Brest, on the 16th, arrived to-day. Bishop Whitehouse, of Illinois, and Jas. G. Bennett, Jr., were passengers.

NATIONAL BANK STOCK.

Important Decision in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania—Are Shares of Stock in National Banks Liable to Taxation?

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania on Monday, at Philadelphia, decided that the shares in National banks are subject to State taxation in the hands of the shareholders. Judge Agnew delivered the opinion of the Court; Chief Justice Woodward dissented, stating that he had considered the subject carefully, and the more he examined it, the more he was convinced that it was his duty to declare his dissent. All tax laws should be strictly construed against the Government. Justice Strong was not present at the argument. We annex the opinion of Mr. Justice Agnew:

William Mintzer vs. the County of Montgomery. Error to C. P. of Montgomery County.

Opinion by Agnew J. Are the shares of stock in the National banks liable, in the hands of the stockholders, to a State tax? This is the question in the stated case and it presents two points.

1. Is the taxation provided for in the State law?

2. Is it forbidden by the act of Congress.

The 32d section of the act of 29th April, 1844, provides for the taxation of debts, accounts, stocks in incorporated and unincorporated associations and public loans. The leading intent of the law seems to be to reach money in every form of investment. With this guide to interpretation, the meaning of the stock clause is plain: "Also, all shares or stock in any bank, institution, or company now or hereafter incorporated by, or in pursuance of, any law of this Commonwealth, or of any other State or government." It is true, that there were no National banks when the act was passed, but its operation was made prospective. Unless, therefore, we deny that the United States are a government, we must say that corporations created under an act of Congress are incorporated in pursuance of the law of another government. Those existing under the laws of other States are provided for in terms, and the expression "any other government" must be confined to foreign governments, if not applicable to that of the United States. But this would be to interpolate the word "foreign" contrary to the main intent of the act. Capital would be much more likely to run into National banks erected in our midst than to flow into foreign institutions. Thus an immense amount of pecuniary capital in the hands of the wealthy would escape taxation if the term "government" be forced out of its natural signification. Looking at the attempt to reach all kinds of money investments, we should sadly miss the legislative mark by restricting the subject of taxation to shares in foreign institutions.

In the 33d section the Legislature provided for the mode of collecting the State tax upon stocks of corporations created by any law of the Commonwealth, making the payment directly from the corporation into the treasury of the Commonwealth. This mode is somewhat varied, and is now supplied by the act of 12th of April, 1859. But this proceeding being confined to the corporations of this State, and not reaching those of other States or governments, the 32d section of the act of 1844 remains operative upon the shares of stockholders in the institutions of the latter class. Hence the decision in Allegheny County vs. Shoenberger, 1 Grant, 35, is not applicable to the stock in our own State banks.

The general banking law of 1850 and the supplement of 1852, as to State bank taxation, providing for the exemption of the stock of the State banks from taxation other than for State purposes, it was held in that case that such stock was exempt from taxation for county purposes, But that does not touch the case before us. The shares of the banks and other corporations of other States and governments remain liable to assessment under the 32d section of the act of 1844.

It is equally clear that the shares in National banks have been, by express provision in the forty-first section of the National Banking law of 3d June, 1864, left open to State taxation as a part of the personal estate of the holder; provided, the rate of taxation does not exceed that assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the State, and does not exceed the rate imposed by the State upon her own State banks. The language of the several provisions of the act of Congress (says Justice Nelson) is so explicit and positive as scarcely to call for judicial construction. The stated case raises no question of excess in the rate of assessments or of repugnance to the provisions of the forty-first section. It is, therefore unnecessary, with the decisions of a superior Court before us, to say more on this branch of the subject.

The enabling act of 1864 applies only to the banks which availed themselves of its provisions. There are several State banks which did not, among them the old Bank of Pittsburgh, which never suspended specie payments, and yet remains a State bank. But even had all the banks of this Commonwealth gone in under the National system, leaving no State bank in existence, the law for taxing State banks would still remain, and would apply to any State bank which might arise. The question is not whether a subject of the tax may chance to be found. But it is sufficient that the law stands unrepealed, and we know of at least one remaining State bank.

The judgment is therefore affirmed.

In Difficulties.

Mrs. Mary Dalihan, living in the Ninth ward, is the proprietor of some property on Pike Street, and Mrs. Catherine Leeson is her tenant. Yesterday, Mrs. Leeson appeared before Alderman Lynch and made information against her landlady for assault and battery, stating that Mrs. D. assailed her with violent blows on the side of the head, knocking her down. Mrs. Dalihan was arrested, and stated in self-justification, that the primary cause of the row between herself and her tenant was the fact that the latter committed depredations on the tenement house, breaking several panes of glass out of the windows. She, therefore, made information against Mrs. Leeson for malicious mischief. Mrs. Leeson denied that the breaking of the windows was the commencement of hostilities, but said that her landlady took the initial step in an unwarrantable manner, by forcibly entering her domicil without just cause or excuse, and throwing her furniture into the street, said furniture consisting, as we are informed, of a bundle of straw, and a candle box partly full of coal. She therefore made information against her landlady for forcible entry and detainer. Not satisfied with this amount of litigation, Mrs. Leeson repaired to Alderman Strain's office, and there made information against Mrs. Dalihan, for another assault and battery, alleging that the defendant struck her over the head with a broomstick. Both defendants, on all charges before both magistrates, were held to bail for a further hearing.

Another Alderman's Office Marriage.

On Tuesday evening Kate Heartnott, living in the Sixth ward, made information for affiliation before Alderman Taylor, against John Carrol. John was arrested, and in default of bail was committed to jail for a further hearing yesterday afternoon. At the appointed time the parties were again before the magistrate for a final disposition of the affair. After some preliminary discussion, Miss Heartnott expressed her readiness to settle the difficulty by matrimony. John demurred but finally consented, and the ceremony began. The groom was not so ready with the responses as he might have been, but eventually, with some prompting, he got through the ceremony. It is stated that the intimacy between the parties commenced in Ireland, and that they came over in the same ship. He promised to marry the girl at Queenstown, but she refused to marry until she got to her cousin's in New York. On reaching New York he refused, and the marriage was not solemnized until yesterday, as stated. Immediately after the ceremony John left his bride, in apparent disgust, thus proving that he had his heart-not in the marriage. The parties had scarcely left the office, when a girl came and made information against John for fornication and bastardy. A warrant was issued. He will hardly marry himself out of this scrape.

Deserter Committed.—Some weeks ago Capt. Smith of the Liberty street recruiting rendezvous enlisted a man named Kohlbecher. Kohlbecher very soon became dissatisfied, and in a day or two deserted. Efforts were made to capture him but he eluded pursuit until yesterday, when he returned to the city and delivered himself up to Maj. Dickey of the Fifth street rendezvous. Maj. Dickey committed him to jail until such time as he can be sent to camp.

An Obstructed Fire-Plug.—The attention of the proper authorities is respectfully called to the condition of the fire-plug on Penn Street, between Morris and Morton. A large heap of stones is piled about it so as to obstruct it most effectually. Should there be occasion to use the plug it would be found quite impracticable, as it could not be got at for the stones. They should be removed immediately.

Pork Packer.—The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of James Lippincott, Pork Packer, 23 Seventh street. He has now a large stock of sugar cured hams, dried beef, breakfast bacon, shoulders and sides, and choice lard, lard oil and mill grease, which will be sold at the most favorable market rates. Give him a call and examine his prices.

The Allegheny Common Grounds.

Having given place to communications on both sides of the subject of improving the Allegheny Commons, notwithstanding the crowded state of our columns, since the subject itself is one of considerable interest to the whole community, and because of the intellectual and social character of the writers—all of whom are citizens of Allegheny—we had intended to decline publishing anything further on the subject. We however, abate this intention, in publishing to-day the article signed "Bismark." We do this in deference to the author and in order to give the benefit of the last word to the side which is opposed to our own views:

ALLEGHENY COMMONS.

This valuable heritage is proposed to be wrested from the rightful proprietors by the same hands it was proposed to absorb the entire city, its corporation and Commons within the bowels of Pittsburgh. The whole project of converting the Commons, at the trifling expense of $200,000, into pleasure grounds for wives and children, has its origin and advocates over the river or with those whose entire business capital is invested there. This is the avowal of one of its advocates, in the GAZETTE, who compliments the two cities by saying the sister cities have a more "horrid record of crime than any other in the country." So far as Allegheny is intended in this atrocious imputation it is simply untrue, and however much some of us are disposed to contribute to the enjoyment of their "wives and daughters," by providing pleasure grounds for their recreation, we repudiate all sisterly relationship in the "catalogue of crime," with such neighbors, as the criminal record of the County Grand Jury fully testifies.

This slanderous imputation we denounce and repel, having its origin outside of Allegheny. No citizen having daily knowledge of events occurring within her borders, would thus dishonor her claim to rank highest among the most peaceful, sober and moral communities of the land we live in, and has some affinity in stolid ignorance to the allegation that funds are to be raised to the tune of $200,000, not by taxation at all, but by assessment. We would inquire by what process taxation usually proceeds, if not by assessment. This is a wonderful discovery indeed, and reminds one of

"A monkey to reform the times
Resolved to visit foreign climes."

And now by way of pacification on this subject, why should not this Committee, so generous in the appropriation of the people's money, confine itself to the mere provision of a public promenade or drive for the worldly and fashionable, go a step further and apply one-half of the same or $20,000 to the erection of an Opera House or Theatre for their wives and daughters. The one would be altogether and application of taxes, as the other, if either, can be legalized by a too liberal Legislature, which we would caution the Representatives of this city to consider carefully before authorizing an additional $200,000 of debt to be imposed on the City of Allegheny, and arrest this iniquitous project of taxation, or assessment as it is called, and the bestowal of contracts for iron fencing to suit stone sills upon contractors who may in the end prove to be some of themselves, should they be disposed to become bidders for the work. We undertake to say, with emphasis, it is not an Allegheny project. The people were never so much as consulted on the subject, nor a single petition proposed, the question originating solely in a committee of five, some of whom have their entire business capital over the water, with much of their sympathies, for where our temporal treasures are there are our hearts also, and dismiss the whole subject to the "sober second thought of the people, Councils and final action of the Legislature, should our members venture to bring it before that body.

Dismissing the subject to the second sober thought of the Councils, the people, and final action of the Legislature, should our members venture to bring it before that body, we would ask them to pause, under the reflection that the debt of this city, in bonds and other municipal liabilities, is at this day within a very small fraction of $500,000.

In all reasonable conscience is not this a sum large enough to impose on the citizens, but must we, at the bidding of a small committee, hurry up our debt to three-quarters of a million, which, as heretofore referred to by your correspondent, is actually a levy upon the county, call it assessment or taxation as you will!

"BISMARK."

Common Pleas Court.

Before Judge Mellon.

Rosanna Hoffman vs. Michael Gohler. Action to recover for services as a domestic for the period of eight years. Before reported. The jury found a verdict in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $414, being at the rate of about $1,06½ per week. The jury probably took into consideration the fact that plaintiff had with her during her employment two of her children, and made allowance for their boarding. Kirkpatrick and Mellon for plaintiff, John E. Large contra.

James K. Kerr vs. Nathaniel B. Hogg. This was an action to recover amount of bill rendered. The plaintiff is a chinaware merchant of Philadelphia, and averred in his affidavit of claim that in April, 1865, the defendant, a resident of this county, purchased (or ordered) sets of china and glassware, which he desired decorated in a certain manner. Nothing definite was agreed upon as to the time of delivery, plaintiff declining to fix a date and only agreeing to have the articles ordered finished as soon as possible. Subsequently the defendant called upon plaintiff, and refused to take the articles ordered by him from the plaintiff. Effort to compromise failed and the plaintiff rendered the defendant a bill, held the goods subject to his order, and brought suit as stated. D. W. & A. S. Bell for plaintiff; James Veech & Son for defendant. The jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $629 62¼.

G. Kann & Bro. vs. Adam Tahr, George Fisher, et. al. Plea trespass on the case. Plaintiffs are the owners and posessors of a tannery in Reserve township, located on what is known Villa street, their lot or close having a front of thirty feet back one hundred feet to an alley. They allege that Villa street and the alley, common and public highways, have been made a depository for clay, earth, dirt, stone and gravel, and thereby obstructed and closed by defendants, preventing plaintiffs from passing over the same, and causing damage by water, slop and filth from premises of defendants and the obstructed highways to the tannery of plaintiffs, for which suit is brought. A. M. Brown for plaintiffs; J. J. Siebeneck for defendants. On trial at adjournment.

A Beautiful Work.

Messrs. Workman, Moore & Co., carriage makers on Beaver street, in the First ward, Allegheny, have just completed a magnificent hose carriage for the Mechanics' Hose Company of Birmingham. The carriage is now on exhibition at their shop, and is a truly beautiful specimen of the carriage builders' art, being perfect in all respects and finished in the highest style of mechanism. It is said to be the finest ever built in this portion of the State, and it would certainly be difficult to find anywhere a finer piece of work. It will be in the hands of men worthy of it when transferred to the Mechanics.

Fair and Festival To-day.—Our readers should bear in mind that the Fair and Festival of the ladies of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal Church commences to-day, in Nevill Hall, corner of Fourth and Liberty streets. Excellent dinner and supper will be served up, and meals can be had at all hours of the day and evening. See advertisement in another column.

MURDOCK & PUTNAM.

Amusements

DR. WM. ELDER, of Washington, D.C., and a member of the bar of the city some twenty-five years ago, will deliver his second lecture to-night at the Academy of Music, on "Money and its Functions." There is not a more brilliant or pleasing lecturer in this country than Dr. Elder, and from his position as Statistician to the Treasury Department, he can handle the subject chosen in an admirable manner. We trust a large audience may assemble to-night, the last opportunity offered of hearing our old distinguished former townsman.

MR. JAMES E. MURDOCH.—This great tragedian and reader holds forth to-night at City Hall, on "Shakespeare and the Bible," under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association. Mr. Murdoch has few equals on the American stage, and we might safely say is without a rival as an elocutionist and reader. He will doubtless handle his subject in his usual good style, and will afford all who attend a rare and pleasing entertainment. Reserved seats may be obtained at the hall this morning at ten o'clock.

OPERA HOUSE.—The success attending Miss Thompson's engagement is most flattering to that lady and creditable to our citizens. Last night the Opera House was crowded, to see her as Little Barefoot. She acted with a charming simplicity of manner throughout, and drew forth loud and repeated bursts of applause. The play is one altogether barren of incident, and depends for its success entirely on the rendition of the part of Little Barefoot, and Miss Thompson achieved the most gratifying success. To-night she appears as Evadne in the play of that name.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—This popular resort continues to draw crowds every night. The performance is as varied as it well can be, and those who attend are sure of an amusing evening.

A Mysterious Loss.

On Tuesday evening, a man named Wm. McCabe, living in Penn township, about nine miles out of town stopped at the Rush House, and leaving his bagage, went to stay for the night at the house of a friend in the Ninth ward. When he went to bed he had $50 in his pocket book. Yesterday morning he came down town and having occasion to use some money took out his pocket book when to his consternation he discovered that his money was all gone. He has not the slightest idea when, where or how he lost his money. He met with a similar mysterious loss about a year ago. He came to town with a $50 bill in his pocket book, with $70 in smaller bills. On making a purchase he offered the $50 bill, and not being able to get it changed, put the bill in a seperate part of his pocket book. He went to bed that night in a public house, and the next morning could not find his pantaloons until they were finally discovered under a bed in another part of the room. When he took his pocket book he discovered that his $50 bill was gone, the $70 were left but the $50 bill was never found, and has never been heard of since.

One Man Sues a Family.

Thomas A. Hinton, yesterday, came before Alderman Strain and preferred a charge of aggravated assault and battery against John Rough, of the Waverly House, on Diamond Alley between Wood and Market Streets. He alleges that, on Tuesday night Rough assaulted him without any sufficient cause, and beat him in a very severe manner, cutting his face and bruising him in painful style.

He also, made information at the same time against Joseph Rough, also of the Waverly House, for selling liquor without a licence, alleging that at different times the accused has violated the license law by selling liquor without the proper authority.

The same plaintiff also preferred a charge against Barbara Tag, the mother of the foregoing defendants, for selling liquor on Sunday, and another against the same defendant for keeping a gambling house. The defendant lives now on Third street, but at the time the alleged offences were committed, was at the Waverly House. Warrants for the arrest of the accused were issued and placed in the hands of officers Wilmot and Brown, who arrested the parties last evening. They were held for a hearing.

Foreign Trade of Philadelphia.

During the last four years, the total value of the foreign exports from Philadelphia have been as follows:

In 1863, $10,526,568; in 1864, $13,664,862; in 1865, $12,504,152; in 1866, $17,867,716. These figures show an increase during that period of nearly seventy per cent. There is, however, another gratifying feature in this exhibit that the figures themselves do not show, and that is that nearly the whole of the exports in 1866 were composed of articles that are the growth and product of our own State. This will be better exemplified by the following list, showing the aggregate value of nine articles only exported to foreign countries during the last year:

Iron manufactures, all kinds	$ 756 678
Lumber, Snooks and Bark	1,084,663
Tallow and Candles, lbs., 1,054,463	567,541
Oil Cake, lbs., 9 929,149	294,086
Wheat Flour, bbls., 87,807	241,081
Corn Meal, bbls., 32,260	144,918
Indian Corn, bush., 761,465	671,767
Petroleum and Benzine, gallons, 28,544,991	11,344,233
Total, nine articles	$15,950,642

Jail Releases.

William Forrest, committed to jail four months and ten days ago, for the non-payment of the costs in a desertion case, in which he was found guilty, yesterday paid the required costs in the case and was released by order of the Court.

George Stewart, committed by Alderman Lynch, on Tuesday evening, on a charge of malicious mischief, obtained bail yesterday and was released.

Isaac Pope, committed by Alderman Strain, on Tuesday, for trial on a charge of surety of the peace, obtained bail yesterday and was released.

John Carroll, committed by Alderman Taylor, for further hearing for affiliation, was released yesterday and married the prosecutrix, as elsewhere noted.

Thomas Montgomery, committed by Alderman Herron, of the Ninth ward, for surety of the peace, obtained bail yesterday and went out.

Daniel Albright, committed on the 7th inst., by Mayor Morrison, for surety of the peace, obtained bail yesterday and was released.

Little Larceny.

Yesterday J. C. Ritchie, of Armstrong station, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, made information before Mayor McCarthy, charging John Edwards and John Warner, with the larceny of a basket, a gallon jug, and two pint flasks. Warrants were issued and officers Barry and Dressler went to make the arrests. They found Warner at Sandy Creek, near Stoner's Mill, and brought him in. Edwards is living near the same place, but though they found the stolen articles at his house, he had made good his escape. The articles are of very trifling value—not worth taking away, in fact. They were stolen off the train at Armstrong station some days ago. Warner is in the lock-up awaiting a hearing.

Sheep Killing Dogs.—Mrs. Duff, owning a farm on the Beaver road, some distance from Allegheny, came yesterday before Alderman Hays, of the First ward, Allegheny, and made information, charging Henry Snyder, a neighbor of hers, with keeping ferocious dogs. She alleges that some two weeks ago the defendant's dogs got among her flock of sheep during the night and killed nine of them. The sheep were valued at four dollars each. The defendant was arrested and had a partial hearing yesterday afternoon, when the case was held for a further hearing.

Accident in Allegheny.—An accident occurred a day or two ago, by which Bryan Martindale, living in Lacock street, in the Fourth ward, Allegheny, had his arm broken. The child was playing on the front steps of his mothers dwelling, when he fell off the lower step to the pavement. Notwithstanding the short distance he fell, it was discovered when he was taken up, that his right arm was broken in two places. His injuries were properly attended to, and the little sufferer is now doing as well as could be expected.

Confiscation.—Yesterday officer John Messner, one of the market constables, observed a lot of roll butter exposed for sale which he thought, from its appearance, was short in weight. He called the attention of the clerk of the market to the matter, and the butter was weighed. The rolls all fell short in weight, and were consequently confiscated, being turned over to the Guardians of the Poor. The lot amounted to about forty pounds.

Bishop of Erie.—The Erie Gazette says: The statement that Rev. Dr. O'Connor has has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Bishop Young, of Erie, is an error, no appointment having yet been made. Rev. John D. Codey, now acting Bishop, will most probably be selected to fill the position, and is in many respects admirably qualified.

Died of Apoplexy.—On Monday, a man named E. M. Johnson, employed on the Pan Handle Railroad, while engaged in coupling cars at Dennison Station, suddenly fell dead in a fit of apoplexy. The deceased was unmarried. Some time since he was conductor on the road.

Allegheny Drunks.—Four common cases of drunkenness were before Mayor Morrow in Allegheny, yesterday, for disposal. They all paid their required fines, and were sent their respective ways.

Accident in the Fifth Ward.

Yesterday afternoon, at about four o'clock, a man named Daniel McKenna, a carpenter in the Fifth ward, met with an accident which may result fatally. He was engaged at Zugg's Rolling Mill, the Sable Iron Works, in the Fifth ward, working on the improvements that are going on there. While walking across the scaffolding he fell off, striking head foremost on the ground some thirty-five feet beneath. He was taken up and removed to Park's boarding house, on the corner of Walnut and Pike streets, and medical aid called in. It was ascertained that his skull was badly fractured and that one of his legs was fractured in two places. He received skillful treatment, but it is thought that he may not recover. We understand that he has but recently returned from California.

A Sing'lar Case.

George Singlar, of Ross township, the driver whose exploits in the Allegheny Market square we noticed yesterday, was before Mayor Morrison yesterday for an adjustment of the matter. He had become entirely sober, and expressed the deepest regret for what had occurred. The German, who was the sufferer by Singlar's freaks, was present, and agreed to settle for his injuries for the sum of ten dollars. Singlar paid this amount and the costs of the case, and was discharged. He is said to be ordinarily a most respectable citizen, but fell into "misfortunes" on the occasion of his visit to Allegheny. The German boy is better of his injuries, and seems to feel that his main grievance is the fact that one of his dogs ran away with a portion of the harness, and has not yet been recovered.

The Reward of "Honesty."

Yesterday morning a gentleman went into the Rush House, and while there dropped a pocketbook, containing seventy-seven dollars in money. He went out without discovering his loss, but a newsboy who was in the house saw the mishap, and waiting till the gentleman had gone out, picked up the package and was himself stealing out of the door with it, when Mr. Levi Kavan, the cashier, who had watched his movements, nabbed the little chap, just at that moment the loser of the money, who had discovered his loss, returned and took possession of his package. Under the impression that the boy had been honest, the gentleman gave him two dollars.

Discharged.—A final hearing in the case of George Nesmith, charged on oath of Isabella Stoner with seduction and fornication and bastardy, was to have been held yesterday before Alderman Donaldson, the defendant was present, but the prosecutrix did not make her appearance. The prisoner was therefore honorably. discharged.

Charged with Forestalling.—A butcher named O. Affenbach, charged on oath of Market Constable John Messner, with forestalling the market, was before Mayor McCarthy yesterday, but was discharged, the defendant establishing the fact that the veal was purchased for his mother, who keeps a boarding house in the Fifth ward.

Chartiers Bounty Case.—The papers in the Chartiers township bounty fund case, of which we made notice yesterday, have passed into the hands of Judge Sterrett, who will decide as to what is necessary to be done in the case.

Caved In.—Yesterday afternoon the sewer at the corner of Cherry alley and Third street caved in extensively, all of a sudden. It fell upon the supply water pipe and broke it. Repairs were commenced.

Site of the New Work House.—The Prison Board of Allegheny County propose to pay a visit to-day to the projected site of the new County work-house, about seven miles out on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The License Court.—Judge Sterrett was engaged yesterday in hearing applications for tavern and eating-house licenses. The applicants numbered forty-eight, of which about half were from the cities.

Assault and Battery.—Alderman Strain yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Lillie Burns, of Moorhead's row, Oakland, charged by Annie E. Nale, a neighbor, with assault and battery.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1867.

WE yield a great portion of our space to-day to the publication of the annual report of Mr. JOHN McCARGO, the efficient and capable City Controller. The statistical information contained in the report will be of much interest to the city reader and all interested in the receipts and expenditures of our municipal government.

FACING THE INEVITABLE.

That the fears of the President have been alarmed is apparent from his negotiations with Republican members of Congress to ward off impeachment. It is to be presumed the President understands his own case, and knows what acts of his have been in contravention of his duty. His consciousness on this head may be pretty accurately measured by the efforts he makes to avoid an investigation.

But the President is engaged in another negotiation, which promises larger results both for himself and the country. He is reported to have tendered the post of Secretary of State to Governor ANDREW, of Massachusetts, and that of Postmaster General to Mr. HORACE GREELEY. If he has really made these tenders, they are the most sensible and the most hopeful acts of his administration. The people, at the elections last autumn, unmistakably decided against him and his policy. As a ruler of a free people, it was incumbent on him to note the fact, and shape his course accordingly. If he had been wise, he would have met Congress in December as admonished by the ballot-boxes. His pride and obstinacy conspired to prevent him. Acting in a representative capacity, he should have subordinated his individual opinions to the will of the many, as contemplated by the fundamental principles of the government, and there he would easily and gracefully have escaped the unpleasant dilemma in which his egotism involved him. Had he thus put himself into agreement with the people, he would have avoided uncomfortable collisions with their representatives, and would have hastened the reconstruction of the Union. He missed that opportunity; but now seems disposed to make some amends for his folly.

Mr. ANDREW and Mr. GREELEY are able and honest men. They have their individualities, as all men have who have capabilities enough to distinguish them from the mass. All through the war they acted unflinchingly on the loyal side. Both belong to that section of the religious world known as Liberal. Having strong and clear conceptions of ideas in theologic, as of other matters, their religious views overlap and run into their conceptions and methods of dealing with political problems. If they were shallow and insincere men, this would not be the case. Their ideas would fit them loosely as a morning gown, and would be dropped off entirely to suit temporary circumstances. Being what they are, they declared at an early period for Universal Amnesty and Universal Suffrage, and have held there, one of them certainly, at the loss of a United States Senatorship. The willingness to incur such sacrifices is good bail that they who make them are to be trusted under all circumstances.

But neither Mr. ANDREW nor Mr. GREELEY have disclosed any disposition to separate from the Republican party. On the contrary, they have been faithful and efficient in adhering to that party. Not failing to urge their individual opinions, they have constantly deferred to the judgment of the party. There is no probability that either of them will accept without such stipulations as will ensure a reasonable degree of concord between the Executive and Congress.

As for Mr. SEWARD and Mr. RANDALL, there is a failing, reaching almost to universality, that their usefulness in the public service ended some time ago, and that the best thing they can do is to sink back into private life, the more speedily the better.

HEMLOCK BARK AND LUMBER.

In the early times a wide district of country situated north and northeast of the Blue Mountains, and drained by the Delaware and its affluents, was timbered in large part with pine and hemlock. The latter had little or no market value. Pine was a resource for getting money, and was first seized upon. It was literally exhausted at prices seldom rising above $6 a thousand for boards at Philadelphia; which was barely sufficient to keep the lumbermen in a condition bordering on savagery.

When there was no more pine, hemlock began slowly to appreciate. At last hemlock boards and scantling rose in market somewhat above the rates at which the pine had been sold; but for two or three years before the Rebellion broke out there was a relapse, and hemlock sunk to $4.50, and even considerably less.

There was one relief to the lumbermen meanwhile. At first, there was no market, or very little, in all that country, for hemlock bark. The tanneries by which New York was mainly supplied, were located in Greene and Schoharie counties, and had not yet exhausted the territories by which they were respectively fed. Some twenty years ago, bark began to fail them, and one by one they were forced to emigrate. They came over into the district tributary to the Erie Railway, some in New York and others in Pennsylvania. Here they established tanneries of altogether unprecedented magnitude, and have already slaughtered most of the hemlock in their reach. Some of these tanneries have now no more than a two years supply of bark at command; scarcely one of them a supply reaching beyond seven or eight years of full business. Latterly in these counties the bark has become of more value than the timber, though hemlock sawed stuff has grown as high as sixteen dollars a thousand at Philadelphia and New York. Hemlock lands, as a matter of course, have rapidly increased in price, and many extraordinary speculations have been made.

It becomes a question of importance to determine where these tanneries will locate when forced again to emigrate. From Northumberland, along the line of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, almost to Erie county, is a region well supplied with hemlock, and now conveniently accessible to the seaboard by rail. This hemlock district extends from the northern border down into the midland counties. It is destined soon to experience a friendly invasion of swarming tanners, and a great enhancement in the value of wild lands. Ten years will suffice to produce astonishing results in this respect, unless some inventive genius shall, in the interim, effectually contrive a process to supersede leather in commerce.

At various times experiments have been made to concentrate tannin, so as to lessen the cost of transportation; the idea being to carry the tannin to the hides, rather than the hides to the tannin. A good deal of concentrated tannin, brought from India, is used in England; but in this country no marked success has attended these efforts. Unless further trials shall lead to improved processes, the hides will continue to be sent to the hemlock forests, the cost of transportation both ways being added to the cost of leather in the great markets.

Some speculation has been excited at different periods, in view of the use and destruction of timber, and the almost total neglect, as yet, to plant forests, as to what will be done for leather when the primitive supply of bark shall be exhausted. Such speculations are about as premature and idle as serious conjectures about coal when the deposits of that material shall be used up. So far, a comparatively few counties have furnished the bulk of the leather used by the American people. Between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans are immeasurable forests of oak and hemlock, which untold generations will be required to consume. True, a considerable portion of these forests do not yield a bark so rich in tanning as to make the manufacture of sole leather by means of it easy and rapid. But, after abating these deficient forests, enough remain to render it unnecessary to consider what sources of supply may be available when these shall be gone.

INSURANCE.

The larger part of the Insurance Companies of this country seem to have fallen upon evil times. They report unprecedented losses. In many instances not only the accumulated savings, but the capital stock, has been absorbed. A convention of delegates from various Companies has been held with a view to devising and applying a remedy.

The unanimous confession seems to be that the whole business has been done in a reckless manner. A few years ago some of the more popular companies made prodigious gains. Competition was stimulated. New companies were started by the score. Properties were insured beyond their value, thus extending encouragement to dishonesty and incendiarism. A succession of heavy conflagrations has brought on a collapse. Many of the firmest companies are cancelling outstanding policies upon manufacturing and mercantile establishments. And, it is now proposed to increase the rates of insurance, so as to cover the losses in the future, and pretty surely leave a surplus after providing for reasonable dividends.

Upon dwelling houses, both in town and country, it is safe to say the rates heretofore charged have paid well enough upon strictly rural residences. The ratio of profit has been large beyond reason. The same is true of village residences. It is not difficult to find villages in which, in comparatively a few years, a hundred thousand dollars has been paid for insurance on this class of buildings, and in which the losses have been insignificant or none whatever. Indeed, it is hard work to find a village in which the facts are not about as stated. Even including store properties in rural districts and villages, the fair presumption is that large profits have been realized. In other words, the country has been steadily assessed to pay for losses in cities; and it is quite probable that in remodeling the scale of charges this inequality will not be expunged.

A quarter of a century ago, it was hard to find a mercantile establishment, even in New York, that was selling a million dollars worth of goods a year. Now, the annual sales of single houses reach from twenty to forty millions. Stocks are proportioned to the amount of business done. Hence, when one of these mammoth establishments is consumed, the aggregate loss is startling.

This difficulty is aggravated by the character of much of the material used in erecting these mammoth ware-houses. However, the exterior may be garnished with iron, red sand-stone, or marble, the interior is almost entirely of wood. Fires originating within the building, find fuel as dry and nearly as abundant as though the structure was altogether of wood. Generally the walls are so thin that when the wood-work, and the combustible goods, become thoroughly ignited, they oppose weak resistance to the spread of the flames into adjoining buildings.

What the Insurance Companies ought to do is to graduate their charges fairly, according to the different sorts of risks, making each carry its own burdens. The tendency of this discrimination, which is just in itself, would be to improve the quality of the buildings in which the larger risks are necessarily located, and so lessen losses by fire.

THE St. Louis Democracy have declared that every white male in the State of sound mind and lawful age, has a right to vote, and should exercise that right at all hazards. This is decidedly revolutionary.

THERE are twenty tanneries in Milwaukee, which together produce nearly two millions of dollars worth of leather.

FARO is the popular game in Detroit. It costs as much to learn it there as in New York.

—Mr. Kavanagh, the armless and legless M. P. from Ireland, excited great curiosity on his first appearance in the House, on the 6th instant. The Hon. member entered the House from the direction of the Speaker's private apartments, seated in a library chair, the mechanism of which is so contrived that he can wheel himself with ease to any point he wishes to reach. The large copy of the Testament used in administering the oaths to members was managed—one cannot use the word handled—by Mr. Kavanagh without the least difficulty, and he wrote his name with as much quickness and apparent ease as any of his fellow members of Parliament. The process was as follows: The clerk handed to Mr. Kavanagh a pen with a handle of the length to which he is accustomed. The Hon. member clasped the handle between what represent his arms, and, steadying it by putting the end into his mouth, guided the pen over the parchment with singular fluency and steadiness.

—The Cleveland Leader "thusly" replies to a banter: "'Mack,' smarting under the lashing administered to him by the Leader, a few days since, made a tame reply in one of his letters in the Cincinnati Commercial, and offered to put up one hundred or two hundred dollars that he could prove the assertion branded by us as falsehood. He is perfectly safe in making the offer, for when the Leader bets, its editors prefer to deal with their peers, and not with a convicted liar and slanderous little penny-a-liner like him."

15 YEARS AGO AND NOW.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS was struggling into notice against the prejudices which everything new, however excellent, is doomed to encounter. TO-DAY it stands at the head of all the tonic and alterative preparations in existence. Its celebrity has evoked many imitations but NO RIVALS. Physicians pronounce it the ONLY SAFE STIMULANT that has ever been introduced into the sick chamber. In the hospitals of the Army and Navy, the Surgeons find it the very best tonic for convalescents, and report it as invaluable for sustaining the vigor of troops on the march, as a remedy for scurvey and all scorbutic affections, and as the only specific for sea sickness. California and Australia have emphatically endorsed it as the MINER'S MEDICINE par excellence, and in Spanish America and all the tropical climates, it is considered the only reliable antidote to epidemic fever.

There is no mystery about the causes of its success. It is the only stomachic and alterative in which are combined the grand requisites of a mild, pure and unvitiated vegetable stimulant, with the finest selection of tonic, anti-bilious, anti-scorbutic, aperient and depurative herbs, plants, roots and barks that have ever been intermixed in a medicinal preparation.

It is also proper to state that the Bitters are sold exclusively in glass, and never, under any circumstances, by the gallon or the barrel. Imposters and imitators are abroad, and the only safeguard the public has against them is to see that the bitters they buy bear the engraved label and note of Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, and the Government stamp over the cork of the bottle.

THE HEALTHINESS OF THE WHITE PINE.

One of the most valuable compounds that has ever been brought before the American public is that of the white pine, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. It is compounded from the inside bark of the pine tree, which grows abundantly throughout all the New England States, and has long been known and valued for its anti-scorbutic properties, not only by the inhabitants of that region of country now resident, but likewise to the wild Indians who formerly roamed the wilderness of the New England pine region, and from whom its great medical virtues seem to have been learned. POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND is, then, nothing more or less, as its name imports, than a complete, pleasant and effectual remedy made from the sweet inside bark of that valuable forest tree, combined with a few other well known diuretics. Its effects upon the kidneys and other secerning organs is truly surprising, but perfectly logical and scientific at the same time. It will be found exceedingly valuable in all dormant and diseased states of the mucous tissues, and we would especially recommend it where Buchu and such like remedies have failed, as being more active and efficacious for diabetes, bleeding from the kidneys, blind piles, enuresis, gravel, and nearly every disease of the mucous lining of the bladder and kidneys.

Sold by the gross, dozen, or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medical Store, 140 Wood street. fe22-u5

CARD---TO THE PUBLIC.

OFFICE OF THE PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH CO. OF THE UNITED STATES, PITTSBURGH, February 7th, 1867.

THE EFFECT OF THE ESTABLISHMENT of the PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES, has been to cause a reduction of over one-half in the charges for the transmission of telegraphic messages between various points and the City of Pittsburgh.

This reduction has occurred where the wires of this corporation enter into competition with those of other lines, and is a result contemplated in its establishment, and in harmony with the views and desires of its managers.

As the corporation extends its lines to other sections of the country, similar results will follow its wires, and the public receive increased benefits, with the increased magnitude of the Company.

The sure results of the establishment of competition with monopolies are increased facilities and lessened charges. The permanency of such benefits is only obtained through persistent and liberal maintenance of opposition.

The generous patronage the PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES has received through all its offices, merits those thanks which its Board of Officers offer the public.

In view of the benefits the corporation has already worked for the business communities its wires reach, it is proper to solicit a continuance and increase of that patronage.

[illegible] Report of the Superintendent of Markets.

To the Market Committee: GENTLEMEN—In making my report, I beg leave to make the following suggestions for your consideration: The benches that are now occupied by the Butchers are made in such a way that the Market Houses cannot be kept as clean as they should be kept. I recommend their removal. I would also suggest that all Dry Goods stands be removed from the second story of the Market House on or before the [illegible] of April, 1867, in order to make room for the Farmers and their produce. If the City Hall is to be kept as a public hall, it should be put in condition [illegible] the pavements around the building, and the floors inside, should be re-[illegible]. A Sewer run from the Market Houses, and con-[illegible] Liberty street, would certainly be of great service to the Markets. I would respectfully recommend that a suitable building, as soon as possible, be [illegible] now occupied as a Market in the Fifth Ward, in order to [illegible] the Diamond Markets as much as possible, they being entirely too small—[illegible] they should be. The revenue will be increased just in proportion to the [illegible] of the markets. Below will be found a report, showing the [illegible]

AMERICAN

WALTHAM WATCHES.

I.—We claim, and are prepared to prove, that the American Watches, manufactured at Waltham, Massachusetts, are not only equal, but far superior to the common watches of England, Switzerland and France.

II.—While we admit that it would be difficult to excel the master-pieces of the eminent European manufacturers, and while we do not claim to have made any decisive improvements over them, we do assert and challenge a successful denial, that our superior class of watches are fully equal, in every respect, to the most expensive specimens of foreign chronometrical art.

III.—We claim that our watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for American use, and more easily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market.

IV.—The reasons why our watches possess these advantages over their European rivals are chiefly:

First, Because the principle of the division of labor is carried out in our workshops to its extreme limits, not in human industry only, but in machinery as well. Every watch passes through hundreds of hands and hundreds of machines.

Second, Because we promptly adopt every new invention to perfect our machinery, and every proffered improvement in the structure of watches.

Third, Because in each of the very numerous, minute, and often microscopic parts of which a watch is made up, we attain, by mechanical power, nearly absolute mathematical precision and uniformity, which it is utterly impossible to achieve by manual labor. Wheels, pinions, escapements, balances, springs and screws—exact counterparts in weight, circumference and dimensions—are turned out by millions by the unerring, because unswerving, iron hands of machinery. Hence, every watch of any one style is a true copy of its model.

V.—These results enable us to defy foreign rivalry, because no similar uniformity and precision is attainable by hand, and because in Waltham alone is machinery exclusively employed in the manufacture of this intricate and delicate mechanism.

VI.—Now, as will be seen at once, this similarity in structure reduces the cost of production; it secures uniformity in results: it perpetuates and infallibly diffuses any excellence that may be once achieved; and makes it easy to repair any injury sustained, or replace any part that may be lost or destroyed.

VII.—In addition to these mechanical advantages, our Watches are simpler in structure, and therefore stronger, and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches. They are composed of from 125 to 300 pieces. In an old English watch there are more than 700 parts.

VIII.—We began our experiment in 1853, in the face of a formidable prejudice against American watches. Our system was new and untried. We have steadily increased our facilities, until now we employ over 700 artisans, and sell 70,000 watches a year. Nearly a quarter of a million of our watches are in use to-day in every State of the Union, as well as in the Mexican and British Provinces and Colonies. Their universal popularity is the best proof of their merit that we can produce. They have won their way in spite of of every opposition and of immemorial prejudices. Hundreds of dealers all over the country have expressed their preference for our products after a long and practical experience with foreign watches.

Any of the grades of Waltham watches may be purchased of watch dealers generally throughout the country.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, February 27, 1867. }

We ascertain upon inquiry at headquarters that there are no grounds whatever for the rumors in circulation yesterday, in regard to defalcations in two of our leading Banks. No such defalcation has occurred and the Banks in question are in good sound working condition.

The following are the New York stock quotations for to-day: Gold, 140¼; 1881 bonds, 110⅛; Five Twenties, old, 110¾; Five Twenties, '65, 108¾; do new, 106¾; Seven Thirties, 105¾. Michigan Southern Railroad, 72¾; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 79¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 94¾; Erie, 56; Western Union Telegraph Company, —; Chicago and Northwestern, 35¾; do preferred, 65¾; New York Central, 102¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 96¼.

—Mr. Sherman introduced in the Senate on Monday a bill to consolidate the National debt and provide for its payment. By the bill the authority of the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds under the act March 3, 1865, is so extended as to authorize the Secretary to issue bonds of the character and denomination described in the act, payable, principal and interest, in coin, and bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, to be known as the consolidated debt of the United States, the proceeds of the bonds to be applied solely to the purchase or payment of existing indebtedness of the United States. The bonds thus issued shall be subject to an annual tax by the United States not exceeding one per cent, in lieu of all other taxation upon said bonds or the income therefrom; the tax to be pledged to the reduction of the public debt. The Chief Justice of the United States, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Treasurer of the United States are constituted commissioners of the Sinking Fund. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to issue bonds to an amount equal to $500,000,000, bearing interest at the rate not exceeding 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and redeemable twenty years from date, the principal and interest payable in coin of the country where payable. Said bonds to be disposed of only in exchange for six per cent interest bearing bonds of the United States held in Europe.

The Senate finance committee have reported against the House bill for issuing $100,000,000 greenbacks to fund the compound notes, and in favor of their own bill for 3-65th per cent notes. But it is by no means certain what course the Senate will adopt. Many of the Senators, especially those from the West favor the House scheme. An attempt will be made to amend it in several particulars.

—The fate of the House bill, authorizing the payment of the compound-interest notes in new greenbacks, is extremely problematical. The Senate is probably opposed to the bill as it stands, through some of the Western men, it is said, favor it. The Finance Committee, it is thought, will move as a substitute the original loan certificate bill. This action the House will probably refuse to concur in, and thus send the matter to a conference committee. The Secretary of the Treasury is believed to be not seriously opposed to the House proposition, provided the discretion to issue is left in his hands.—Phila. Press.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, January 27, 1867. }

The produce markets present no new characteristics worthy of special notice. The demand for most of the leading commodities is restricted almost entirely to supplying the immediate wants of retailers and consumers, and round lot operations, therefore, are the exception rather than the general rule.

GRAIN—Wheat is more active; sale of 2000 bush Spring on private terms; and 2 cars Red Winter at $2,80. Oats dull but unchanged; may be quoted at 48, on track, and 50 to 52, in store. Sale of 1000 bush Rye, to arrive, at $1,28. Corn is dull; may be quoted at 68 to 70, on track, and 75 to 78, in store. No transactions in Barley.

HIDES—More active; sale of 36 green salted, light weight, at 12; 35 green salted, kips, at 16; and 157 Dry Flint, at 20.

BUTTER—Continues excessively dull the supply being considerably in excess of the demand, and prices are again tending downward. Prime Roll cannot fairly be quoted above 28 to 30.

EGGS—The market is dull, with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, and liberal receipts; we now quote fresh packed at 20 to 22

POTATOES—Continue very dull; we can report sales in store at $2,50 to $2,75 per bbl, as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand is light, though prices are unchanged; we continue to quote Peaches at 16 to 17 for quarters; 19 to 20 for halves; and Apples at 19 to 20.

GREEN APPLES—Dull and, if anything, a shade lower; we quote at $3 to $3,50 for good to prime.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

WEDNESDAY, February 27, 1867. }

CRUDE—The market for crude was unusually quiet to-day, the sales all told, reaching only eight hundred and seventy-five barrels, as follows: 575 at 7, bbls returned, and 300 at 7. Quotations, on the spot, may be fairly given at 7 to 7¼, bbls returned, and in bulk, and 12 to 12½, bbls included, according to gravity—April delivery is quotable at 8. Smith's Ferry oil is dull and lower, and we now quote at 6½ to 7, bbls returned—nothing doing in Kanawha oil.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is more active, and, if anything, a shade stronger, but as yet, prices are no better. We can report sales of two five hundred barrel lots, for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 27½; 500 for March, at 27½; 500, to be delivered between the first and fifteen of March, at 21, on cars here; 500 bbls standard white, for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 28; 1500 standard white, to be delivered within twenty days, sellers option, at 28; 1500 standard white, to be delivered between the 15th and 30th of March, sellers option, at 28¼; and 1000 bbls standard white for March, same option, at 22, free on board cars here. RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary at this point, with eleven feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and business was moderately active at the landing.

The Lorena, from St. Louis, with a good trip, is the only arrival we have to report. The Maggie Hays, from Cincinnati, and the Julia, from Louisville, are among the first boats due.

The Argosy cleared for Cincinnati about noon yesterday with a good trip, and the Armenia, for New Orleans, got off last evening. She also had a good trip with engagements below, and quite a number of passengers.

The new Brownsville packet Elisha Bennett, is getting her furniture, carpets, etc., etc., on board, and by Saturday she will be ready to receive visitors, and on Sunday morning she will take her departure. When finished the Bennett will have a beautiful, tastefully and conveniently arranged cabin. She has also got a "Freedman's Bureau," and in this respects she is ahead of most steamboats—a nice little cabin fitted up in the after part of the boat on the lower deck, for the accommodation of the cabin crew. This is a new "wrinkle," and to Capts. Jacobs and Cox, belong the credit of it.

The Ida Stockdale Capt. Marsh is filling up steadily for St. Louis and the Missouri River, and will be the first boat out. The America Capt. Golding, is up for Nashville, and will be the first boat to leave for that point.

The Spray, Capt. Smith, is filling up steadily for Cincinnati and Louisville and will leave on Saturday without fail. The Great Republic Capt. Donaldson, is receiving freight for New Orleans, and will leave as advertised.

The Peerless arrived and departed for Oil City. She had a very good trip down and a fair trip up. There are now but three boats in the Allegheny River trade, viz: Peerless, Belle and Ida Rees. The Urilda is being repaired and the Echo is laid up down at the point.

The Leclair, formerly an Allegheny River packet, has been purchased by Capt. J. G. Saint and others and is now being fitted up for a trip to the mountains. The Petrolia was purchased by the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company some time since and is now running in connection with that road between Mahoning and Brady's Bend. The Natrona has also been purchased by the same company and is being remodeled and fitted up for the same trade.

The R. C. Gray bound down and the Maggie Hays bound, up passed Pomery on Monday, and the New York enroute from St. Louis to Pittsburgh and the Silver Cloud and Golden Era, enroute from Pittsburgh to New Orleans, arrived at Cairo the same day. The Messenger and Wauanita, were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday, and the Ezra Porter and R. C. Gray, were expected to arrive there on Monday night.

There have been no less than ten New Albany engineers killed by steamboat explosions within the last eighteen months, and if we are not sadly mistaken nearly all these boat were built about the falls. Our Louisville exchanges, especially the Courier, are constantly harping about the superiority of that place over Pittsburgh for building steamboats, but the record of Louisville steamboats for past year or two, is not as good by any means as it might be, and we think the the less the aforesaid news papers say about the matter, the better. The David White which boat exploded the other day, causing great loss of life, was built at Louisville.

At St. Louis the owners of the Rubicon, Welcome, Paragon, Phil Sheridan, and other boats, believe the time has arrived to form themselves into a line especially for the trade, and they propose to adopt a pro rata schedule, instead of charging the same rates to Vicksburg as rule for New Orleans freights. The latter proposition is strenuously opposed by the managers of the New Orleans packet lines.

We take the following from a late Memphis paper: One-fourth of the staunch steamer Emperor was sold yesterday to E. P. Wait & Co., at the rate of $20,000 for the whole boat. The Emperor takes the place of the St. Cloud, and will be a valuable addition to the Memphis and Cincinnati trade. She leaves for Cincinnati this evening, and is receiving cotton and passengers.

Steamboat robberies are quite the rage at present. While the clerk of the J. C. Swon was enjoying a quiet nap the other day, somebody entered the office, took the safe key from his pocket, opened the safe, abstracted $1,400, relocked the safe, returned the key to the clerk's pocket and decamped with the booty.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday: Professor J. A. Snodgrass, river editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, has retired from that journal, to engage in commercial and mercantile pursuits in this city. We shall miss the familiar face of our old friend Jack along the grade. May he "make a bushel" in his new profession. We understand a gentleman named Steep is Professor Snodgrass' successor. Captain W. G. Coffin, late of the New York, succeeds Captain Jos. L. Lytle in the command of the Camelia, on her return from the Tennessee River. The latter will command one of the Northern Line packets, plying between St. Louis and St. Paul, this season. The Silver Moon, on her recent upward trip, passed the Quickstep twice under way, fair and square—first at Henderson, and next in sight of Evansville. Captain Dexter was on the roof of the Quickstep, and will, of course, pass the "horns" over to Captain Merrielees when they next meet. Captain John W. Cannon, of New Orleans, has contracted with Thomas Humphreys, of New Albany, for the hull of a steamer which is to be a duplicate of the R. E. Lee. The American Foundry, of New Albany, is building the machinery, and Hipple, Smith & Co. the cabins, for two propellers, two hundred and thirty-five feet long, for the Mobile and New Orleans trade. They are to be built here the present season, Captain Smoker will build a first-class lower river steamer at New Albany this season.

RIVALRY—LOUISVILLE VS. PITTSBURGH—It is a well known fact that both Louisville and Pittsburgh are building boats that each claim is to be the finest ever seen upon the Western waters. The Pittsburghers have named their craft the Great Republic, and the Louisville the Richmond. The former is a high pressure, while the latter is low. The papers of both cities have labored very hard to convince the public that their boat is the best, both as to splendor, build and speed. The claims of each have allies to assist them in their endeavors.—St. Louis Dispatch
